International Mine Water Association Symposium 2004

Mine Water 2004 – Process, Policy, and Progress

Newcastle upon Tyne, United Kingdom
20-25 September 2004

ISBN: 978-1-62276-985-8
TABLE OF CONTENTS

The Environment Agency’s Approach to Mining Pollution ................................. 1
Hugh Potter, Brian Bone, Joanne Forster, Phil Chatfield, Graham Tate

Mine Water Policy in the UK and the Proposed Directive on Mine Waste ............ 16
Jaime M. Amezaga, P. Younger

A Metal Mines Strategy for Wales ................................................................. 26
Dave Johnston

The Formation of High Density Sludge from Minewater with Low Iron Concentrations ................................................................. 37
Richard Coulton, Chris Bulen, Carl Williams, Keith Williams

Utilisation of Ochreous Sludge as a Soil Amendment ........................................ 51

Jaime M. Amezaga, P. Younger

The Spanish Mine Water Policy and Linked EU Directives ................................ 76
J. Loredo, R. Alvarez, A. Ordonez, F. Pendas

Experience of Canadian Partnership Programs – MEND and NOAMI ................. 86
Gilles Tremblay, Charlene Hogan, Elisabeth Gaudinier

An Overview of Mine Water Rebound in the South Yorkshire Coalfield .............. 98
Sean Burke, John Barber

Groundwater Management Planning at an East African Gold Mine .................... 109
Jon Hall, James Dodds

Evaluating the Relative Risks of Pit Reclamation Alternatives at the Golden Sunlight Mine (Montana, USA): A Multiple Accounts Analysis ...................................................... 127
Shannon Shaw, Shannon Duslap, Bill Maehl

Post-Closure Mine Hydrology and Its Impact on Underground Tailings Disposal at the Thalanga Mine, Queensland, Australia .............................................. 138
Manfred Thienenkamp

Decommissioning of the Old pyritic Tailings Facility Previously Used in a Talc Operation, Eastern Finland ................................................................. 145
Marjia Liisa Raisanen, Petri Juntunen

Cost-Effective Abatement of Stochastic Metal Loading to Water Recipients ........ 159
Christian Barresel, Georgia Destouni

Microbial Populations in Surface Spoil at the Abandoned Mynydd Parys Copper Mines ................................................................. 169
Christopher G. Bryan, Kevin B. Halberg, D. Barrie Johnson

Biogeochemistry of a Subterranean Acidic Mine Water Body at an Abandoned Copper Mine ................................................................. 179
Kris Coupland, Owen Rowe, Kevin B. Halberg, D. Barrie Johnson

Two-Dimensional Simulation of Pyrite Oxidation and Pollutant Transport in Backfilled Open Cut Coal Mines ................................................................. 190
F. Doulati Ardejani, R.N. Singh

Similarities in Hydrogeochemical Processes Between Ore Deposition Formation and Acid Mine Drainage: Example Near a Porphyry Copper Mine ...................................................... 210
Ingar F. Walder, David Carr, J. Scott Lee, Anne Williamson

From Research to Remediation: Application of Hydrogeochemical Research for Effective Mine Site Remediation ................................................................. 222
D. Kirk Nordstrom

Field and Numerical Studies of Water Stratification in Flooded Shafts .................. 233
H. Kories, P. Ruterkamp, M. Sippel

Antimony Anomalies Around Abandoned Silver Mines in Tyrol, Austria ............ 250
Christian Wolksdorfer, Thomas Wackwitz

Vicente Erbar

Geochemistry and Mineralogy of AMD in the Iberian Pyrite Belt (Spain) ............. 275
Javier Sanchez Espana, Enrique Lopez Pamo, Esther Santofimia, Osvaldo Adavire, Jesus Reyes, Daniel Baretto

Characterization of Polluted Runoff in a Granite Mine, Galicia (Spain) .............. 285
Enrique Pena, Joaquín Suarez, Felix Sanchez-Tembleque, Alfredo Jacome, Jeronimo Puertas

Water Arsenic Pollution Related to Historic Mercury Mining in Asturias (Spain) .... 298
J. Loredo, R. Alvarez, A. Ordonez, F. Pendas
